Did you know...?

Tazewell Street Early History

Tazewell Street was home to many early Tremont businesses that faced the village square, today called City Park. It was also part of the first road leading to Pekin.

Take Tazewell Street west, and today, it dead ends. But in the past, it continued, crossing railroad tracks and going behind today's Big Art's Yoke! That road led over Dillon Creek and past MMS on Watson Road, then to the current Route 9 and into Pekin.

In 1929, Rt 164 was constructed leading west from Tremont to Pekin, and East from Tremont to the west side of Bloomington.

Later 164 became State Route 9.
